

BELIEVE, OBEY, FIGHT!!

EMPIRE STRIKES BACK!!

War with Greece.

It is with great regret that we have been forced into this action. We have known for a period of time that Greece has viewed our enemies as close friends of theirs. Due to this potential new threat to our borders, it was deemed necessary to move our forces from Africa to open up this new front to protect our empire. Even up to the last hour before our necessary action our diplomats were still in talks to avert this war, we still hope that Greece will come to her senses and agree to come under our protective wing. Greece has sent out messages asking for support, none will come. The Russians are in total dis-array and the British are struggling in Spain.

Our magnificent navy fleet challenged a Greek Taskforce as it approached our international waters, possibly to raid our merchant shipping lines. Despite numerous hails and warning shots to move away, the Greek invasion force continued. Our navy had no choice left to them and responded with the only means it could and sent this determined enemy to the bottom of the sea.

Our glorious fleet engages the Greek battle group.

We thank the government of Turkey for with holding its forces from coming into conflict with shock troops, and now ask that they withdraw to their own borders as we have the situation in hand.

SPAIN

As published in other unreliable newspapers, our army have moved into Spain, this was at the request of Spain, shortly after this movement of forces, Spain for whatever reason decided to withdraw from the conflict. Italy already has an ambassador in talks with the Spanish government and we are confident that they will join with us in evicting the British aggressors from her sovereign land.

Reports of Portuguese brutality and war atrocities had filtered through the country and citizens of Spain, fearing for their lives headed for the safe haven of Madrid. This was obviously what the British had planned as they carried out an area bombardment on the city without regard for civilian life. This may just be the swinging factor that brings Spain back into the war.

RUSSIA

After falsely pretending that they wanted to make peace, they have declared war on the Imperial Nation of Japan, this is just a rally cry from their new leader, and he knows that they cannot fight a war on two fronts. The Russian forces are severely damaged and units are being stripped from the western front to support it's attack on Japan. I am happy to say that we will start to see more pictures of Russian pow's in the next few months.

AFRICA

We would like to say to our African cousins that we have not forgotten about you, and we will be visiting you very shortly.
