

"The function of a citizen and a soldier are inseparable" Mussolini 1940

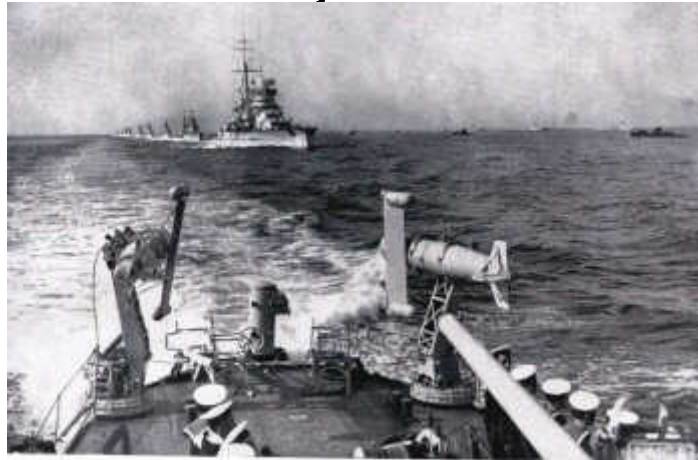

"Believe, Obey, Fight"

PAX ROMANA

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT!
May 1941

Italian Navy Strikes back!

Italian Battle Fleet sailing through the Mediterranean

The Fleet as it sails past 1 of the 3 British Cruisers it destroyed

A French submarine being attacked. It was later sunk.

The mighty Navy has returned to the seas of the Mediterranean. Our fleets have been transporting troops to the North African front, engaging ground units of the beleaguered French and the British troops. We have engaged and sunk 12 French submarines this month as well as that our brave sailors found a squadron of Royal naval cruisers, they were prowling around trying to attack peaceful merchant shipping, but our men were waiting and in a short action the newest of battleships engaged them at range and all three were sunk.

AIRFORCE TAKES THE BATTLE TO THE BRITISH!

Our fighters and bombers on their way to pound both British and French positions time and time again with no losses.

Massed air attacks spell doom for the British convoys in North Africa. Despite their denial we can announce that the British forces in Africa are finding life hard under the sun and bombardment of Italian airmen. We have successfully engaged the remnants of the British Airforce, fought off the French in the North, with a brave unit holding of six French divisions who have been almost destroyed thanks to the accurate gunnery and esprit de corps of the excellent Italian forces arrayed against them.

A recon section takes time to rest from chasing the British as they flee south in North Africa.

WHAT NEWS IN THE BRITISH PRESS?

Where are the reports from Africa in the British press? Where are the reports about the losses in the Atlantic? The British people have a right to know that they are being deceived. They can read the Dublin Chronicle, they can read our own great Pax Romana, they know they are being lied to. The reports are of nothing but the odd little story, a bit about how Indian troops have beaten some ill equipped tribesmen in the jungles of Asia, but any mention about Africa? The Atlantic? Or Spain? No not a word...

German officers planning their next move in Spain.

Why? Because they are losing and the British people will not tolerate the senseless loss of more British lives by their corrupt and decadent rulers.

The 4 maps below show how the British have been pushed by us over the last 2 months, this when they told their own people that they were going to crush us with their French allies.

These maps show the positions to the south (top 2) of our forces and to the north (bottom 2)

FOLLOWING MASSIVE INVESTMENT THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCES A GREAT BUILDING PROGRAM FOR THE ARMED FORCES.

An armaments factory in full swing.

Sources in the Government have disclosed that Il Duce has personally sanctioned a massive building program of the most modern weapons for the revitalised Italian army, air force and navy. Rumours say that over $1500 million is being spent to bring the war to swift conclusion. "In a few months this stuff will be blasting the Brits back into their fox holes!" joked one armaments worker from Brescia.

AN END TO RATIONING!

The people enjoying the end of rationing and the bountiful array of food on offer now.

We have all thought there seems to be more food in the shops haven't we? Well it's because IL Duce has agreed to end the rationing of foodstuffs for Italy and our allies in Rumania and Bulgaria! So whilst the Brits starve we can eat as much as we want!

How do you like them apples Winston! Perhaps we should send him some of our excellent wine to accompany those cigars...how can it be that one man and his cronies can eat like kings whilst his people starve?

Wake up people of Britain. Your corrupt leaders have lead you into a war you cannot win, your troops are stuck in Spain and Africa without supplies, your bellies are empty, your allies the French are beaten, the Belgians and Dutch have given up without a fight. . .you are being deceived by your leaders.

If you stop fighting now the Italian people will send you the food you so desperately need.

We can then all turn to defeat the Communists that threaten all our nations.