Russian Front on The Brink

The Russian front is on the brink of collapse the German High Command reports. Every command is reporting thousands of Russian soldiers dropping their arms and heading home the folly of their aggression is now realized. With poor training, poor equipment, and poor leadership they now see the lies spread by their government.

German forces are on the brink of Leningrad and several other key cities as the offensive continues.

US Wakes Up

The US Congress this past month finally woke up and refused to allow Churchill to push them to a war they don't want. The question is will the President be held accountable to the will of the people or will he continue to be a puppet of Churchills

RAF Decimated Over England

In a series of raids the German Luftwaffe launched attacks aimed at the British war machine. The industrial heartland of Hull has been reportedly destroyed as well as the city of Plymouth.

The RAF proved again unable to stop the German bomber formations as they headed towards their assigned targets. Several hundred English fighters were reported to have been blown out of the sky with little losses to German air units.

Merchant losses continue to mount

The German submarine fleets continue to operate throughout the Atlantic with little to no losses. Another 500K tons of shipping was reported sunk this month. One can only guess how long the British people will be willing to die for Churchills Empire.
