

Deutsche Nachrichten

May 1, 1942

Celebrations throughout Germany

On April 20th massive celebrations were held throughout Germany in honor of our Glorious leaders birthday Adolph Hitler. In Berlin a huge military parade was attended by many German as well as citizens of other nationalities.

Adolph Hitler saluting a new SS Corp about to head to the front

Portions of Goebbels' speech on this historic day:

“On the eve of his 53rd birthday, the whole nation gathers around the loudspeaker. It is far more than a festive event. It confirms what all Germans sense and feel, indeed more deeply and with greater obligation than ever before. In some sense it is a renewal of our loyalty and faith, proven already a million fold through deeds, through uncounted sacrifices, at the risk of body and life, in a multitude of bitter deaths. It does not need words.

If ever the German people have felt united in thought and will, then it is in this: to serve him and to obey his commands. The sound of heroic and titanic music streaming from every German heart raises our confession to a solemn and holy height. When we finish our celebration, the voices of men and the sounds of instruments will join in the great conclusion to the Ninth Symphony. As the powerful Ode to Joy sounds and a sense of the greatness and scope of these times reaches even to the most remote German hut, as its sounds reach to distant countries where German forces stand watch, each of us, man or woman, child or soldier, farmer or worker or civil servant will know both the seriousness of the hour and the joy of being a witness and a participant in this great historical epoch of our people.

We call the eternal power that rules over us the Almighty or God or Fate or the Good Father, he who as the Ninth Symphony says, lives beyond the stars. We ask the Almighty to preserve the Führer, to give him strength and blessing, to favor his work, to increase our faith, to make our hearts steadfast and our souls strong, to give our people victory after its battles and sacrifices, to bring the times to fulfillment.

There is no greater good fortune on earth than to serve a brilliant leader, to do his work. May we do that each day. The difficulty of our day is also its greatness. We would change places with on one.

In gratitude and loyalty, we send the Führer our greetings. An unbreakable band unites the front and the homeland. Germans throughout the world are united in the fervent wish that we bring each year on the eve of his birthday:

May he remain to us what he was and is, Our Hitler!”

Portugal Surrenders

The leaders of Portugal have finally seen thru the lies of the puppet master Churchill and wisely spared the Portuguese people many useless deaths. With German, Spanish, and Italian troops on the doorstep of Lisbon Portugal kicked out the British occupying forces and declared Lisbon an open city.

The remaining British forces reportedly to be short of food, fuel, and ammunition is rapidly withdrawing towards Gibraltar with axis forces close on their tails. It is believed it is only a matter of time before we shall see the British and their lackeys removed from Western Europe.

Actions in Greece

Intelligence has led us to believe that the Greek actions on Turkey was actively supported and backed by the British masters in London. This belief is now proven by the presence of thousands of French troops in Greece, French troops whose lives have been thrown to the wolves by London expanding what was a local Balkan problem.

Germany cannot stand idle and watch another once free country be subverted by Churchill to fight his war on Germany. Germany will use all possible and needed force to remove these barbarians from the European mainland.

War on Russia

German and allied forces have again resumed their offensives in Russia. Hundreds of Russian tanks have been reported destroyed in and around Smolensk, another city that is being forced to pay the price for Russia's military leaderships arrogance.

In the city of Smolensk itself Army Group B reports the numbers of Russian dead are mounting daily and resistance is wavering. New leadership hiding in Moscow doesn't equal victory on the battlefield.

Several German Corps of Army Group A have been reported on the outskirts of Kalinin after German motorized and armored forces blew a hole thru the Russian lines. Several Russian infantry corps are reportedly close to enclosure north and south of town.

Army Group C pushed a strong Russian concentration of troops out of the Russian town of Konetop with little loss of life and is at this moment approaching Kursk and Tula with little resistance being given.

Not to be outdone elements of Army Group S have also blown a hole thru Russian lines and are rapidly approaching Kharkov and threaten to encircle tens of thousands of Russian troops in the Dnipropetrovs'k region

U-boats on the Prowl

Not to be outdone the German U-Boat fleet continued to harass British ships operating in the Atlantic. Several British cruisers and destroyers were sunk with no German losses reported.